Eligible Security Types

Through your Fidelity BrokerageLink account, you have the ability to invest in mutual funds available through Fidelity FundsNetwork®.

Ineligible Security Types

You are unable to invest in mutual funds offered through the Vanderbilt University 403(b) Plan Standard Plan Options (Core Investment Options), tax-exempt securities, employer securities (includes all types of equities, e.g. common stock, preferred stock, convertible stock, options), physical certificates, precious metal, limited partnerships, futures contracts, commodities, interest rate options, currencies and currency options, CAPS, and options levels 3, 4, and 5.

Standard Plan Options

The Standard Plan Options (Core Investment Options) are non-brokerage investment options available through the Vanderbilt University 403(b) Plan.

BrokerageLink Core Account

This is the portion of your BrokerageLink account that acts as a cash component. BrokerageLink account assets not invested in individual securities will be held in Fidelity® Cash Reserves, a money market mutual fund. Transactions are settled with Fidelity® Cash Reserves from your BrokerageLink Core Account.

BrokerageLink Default Fund

Any transfers from your BrokerageLink account into your Standard Plan Options (Core Investment Options) will first be invested in the Principal Fixed Account.
Minimum Investment

There is no minimum amount for direct payroll contributions into your BrokerageLink account, but there is an initial minimum of $2,500 to open an account and a $1,000 minimum for each subsequent transfer from a Standard Plan Option (Core Investment Option).

Effective February 2, 2015, there will not be an initial minimum investment to open an account; there will be a $500 minimum for each subsequent transfer from a Standard Plan Option (Core Investment Option).

Transaction Fee Funds, which are funds not participating in the Fidelity’s “No transaction fee” (NTF) funds program (http://fundresearch.fidelity.com/mutual-funds/fund-families), such as Vanguard funds, have a transaction fee assessed on each new purchase. The Vanderbilt 403(b) Plan allows payroll contributions to be directed to a BrokerageLink account. If you set up an automatic investment into a Transaction Fee Fund for these payroll contributions, you can avoid the transaction fee assessed for that purchase.

This setup will need to be done via a Fidelity phone representative until March 2015, when it can be done online. These automatic purchase instructions will remain in place until you request otherwise. This process will allow for purchases into these preselected funds each time a payroll contribution posts to the BrokerageLink account without incurring the transaction fee.

Some funds in BrokerageLink do have fund minimums that must be met, even for an automatic purchase into those funds. As this is specific to each fund, this will be reviewed at the time of your request to add the automatic investment instructions.

Prohibited Transaction

In addition, you may not invest in any other issue/security that may result in a prohibited transaction under the Plan.

Other Account Restrictions

The Vanderbilt University 403(b) Plan may restrict non-vested assets, a source of money, or a percentage of each participant’s account from being transferred to a BrokerageLink account.

Effective February 2, 2015, you may exchange or direct only 95% of the Vanderbilt 403(b) Retirement Plan investments into the Fidelity BrokerageLink account.

Third-Party Trading Authorization

To allow someone other than you to have limited trading authority in your BrokerageLink account, please call the Vanderbilt University 403(b) Plan toll free at 1-800-343-0860 to request a copy of the Limited Third-Party Trading Authorization and Indemnification Form.

An investment in a money market fund is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. Although money market funds seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in these funds.

Fidelity BrokerageLink accounts are brokerage accounts established as part of an employee benefit plan and are subject to plan rules. Plan participants have trading authority over Fidelity BrokerageLink accounts. Consult the Fidelity BrokerageLink account Terms and Conditions for more information.

A self-directed brokerage account is not for everyone. If you are an investor who is willing to take on the potential for more risk and are prepared to assume the responsibility of more closely monitoring this portion of your portfolio, it could be appropriate for you. However, if you do not feel comfortable actively managing a portfolio of options beyond those offered through your plan's standard investment options, then a self-directed brokerage account may not be appropriate for you. Additional fees apply to a brokerage account; please refer to the fact sheet and commission schedule for a complete listing of brokerage fees. Remember, it is always your responsibility to ensure that the options you select are consistent with your particular situation, including your goals, time horizon, and risk tolerance.

The investment options available through the Vanderbilt University 403(b) Plan reserve the right to modify or withdraw the exchange privilege.

Access to the money in this account is regulated according to the Internal Revenue Code and other applicable legislation. None of the Fidelity companies will undertake to determine or advise you as to whether your investment or trading activity is permissible under or consistent with the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), the Internal Revenue Code (IRC), or your own employee benefit plan (Plan). Each plan has certain restrictions that you are responsible for knowing about and with which you must comply.

Commission schedules and fees are subject to change. Account service and maintenance fees apply. All fees as described in the fund's prospectus still apply. Please refer to the FundsNetwork® fund listing for more details on the FundsNetwork® program and a complete listing of available funds.
