Clair Brigman, Training Representative

Clair is a Training Representative within HR's Learning & Organizational Development Team. She joined Vanderbilt's Talent Acquisition team in 2009 and then in 2014, landed her dream role in Learning & Organizational Development! Clair facilitates New Staff Orientation and feels privileged to welcome new staff to campus and to help them set off on the right foot. She also coordinates New Leader Orientation and serves as the department administrator for Vanderbilt's online learning management system, the Learning Exchange. In addition, she enjoys assisting her colleagues and helping support Employee Appreciation events in particular.

Clair has almost eighteen years of Human Resources experience - equally split between training and talent acquisition. Previous employers include Gaylord Opryland Resort & Convention Center and British Telecom. Originally from the UK, Clair has a Master's degree in French from the University of Glasgow in Scotland and postgraduate diplomas in Human Resource Management and Teaching English as a Second Language from the University of Ulster in Northern Ireland.

Clair's MBTI type is: INFJ.
