Scott Glasgow, Senior Special Events Coordinator

Scott has spent the past 20 years of his career in special events, with a focus on planning and development. The diversity of his experience while working with companies of all sizes has made him a particularly versatile team leader. Since moving to Nashville in 2011, Scott has served as the Director of Corporate Events for Incredible Dave's. He opened the first franchise in Tennessee and was responsible for all corporate sales & marketing for the company. Scott has dedicated his career life to event development in Nashville while spending time as the Director of Events & Food Services for Cheekwood Botanical Gardens, the Business Development Manager for Classic Party Rentals and now the Senior Special Events Coordinator for Vanderbilt University.

After relocating to the South, Scott joined the business community and became a member of 6 area Chamber of Commerce's. He finds it important for everyone to be active in your local community and offers his advisory services to several other important organizations including the American Advertising Federation, the Nashville LGBT Chamber of Commerce, Nashville Pride and UNITE magazine. Scott has created successful events for various clients throughout Nashville at the Farmers Market, OZ, The Schermerhorn and the Musicians Hall of Fame.

In New York, Scott was the Catering Coordinator of Thomas Preti Caterers where he managed events for Oprah, Bill & Hillary Clinton, Pepsi, NBC, and the United Nations, just to name a few. He was also able to utilize his conceptualization and planning skills for clients like MTV, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Cartier, and Nike. His prior freelance background with Glorious Foods, Restaurant Associates and Compass has given Scott numerous years of experience in budgeting, event execution and customer relations.

Scott currently resides in Hendersonville with his family.
