Stacey McCarty, Program Coordinator II

Stacey joined Vanderbilt just over four years ago. Upon starting, she helped launch Vanderbilt Leadership Academy. VLA is leadership development program for Vanderbilt's next generation of leaders, both in academic and administrative areas across the University and Medical Center. Having had prior experience in event planning, account management, fundraising and sales, the Program Coordinator position was a perfect fit for her. Stacey coordinates all of the logistics of VLA ranging from assisting in content development, session planning and logistics, communications, marketing and budget management.

Outside of VLA Stacey attends to her four children (two boys and two girls) ranging from 11-15 and has called Nashville home for the past eight years. Prior to moving to Nashville her family lived in Seattle, Washington for 15+ years and she grew up on Orcas Island in the San Juan Islands bordering Canada. She enjoys traveling, cooking and art as well as practicing hot yoga and walks in the many Nashville Parks.

Stacey's MBTI type is: ESFP.
